Who is this for?

eGuardianship was designed alongside people in the industry using either a combination of programs or a "home made" system to manage their needs. With their input, we were able to come up with an easy to use, cost saving solution that is by far the best solution available today.

Guardian

A Public Guardian can use eGuardianship as their complete management solution. All time and case management needs can be tracked and reported from any computer with an internet connection. Easily keep track of payments, bills, estate values including stocks and bonds and even print out needed checks to pay vendors. Increase your accountability by tracking changes and ensuring that work is done. Automatically generate your Court or Reporting Agency required reports for your jurisdiction.

Representative Payee

A Representative Payee can use eGuardianship to manage all financial and case management, including time tracking, needs. eGuardianship reminds you of bills to be paid, prints the checks, and then reconciles your accounts in a simple and easy way. All of this can be done from nearly any computer with an internet connection. Caseworkers can be given access to certain parts of the system to request checks for their clients or to check on a balance. They can also track the time spent with their clients and generate bills and reports.

Group Home

A Group Home can use eGuardianship to compact their management system into one program. By combining the much-needed tasks of managing both financial and clinical needs, your staff can become more efficient in common, everyday tasks including time spent with individual clients.

Fiduciary

A Fiduciary can use eGuardianship to efficiently manage the financial and personal affairs of clients. eGuardianship can help make the process more manageable while saving money and time spent on daily tasks. Tracking of time, assets, check printing and the flexible reporting system are examples of how a Fiduciary could use
